This six-part docuseries and feature length documentary raises awareness around the abuse of vulnerable adults.

Explore the challenges faced by adult protective services (APS) professionals and the everyday heroes who report abuse, emphasizing the village it takes to transform victims into survivors.

The Clowder Group, LLC in collaboration with NAPSA and APS organizations nationwide, raise awareness and drive change, standards, education, and APS recruitment.

This impact campaign targets professionals, policymakers, and adult protection stakeholders through conferences, engages future leaders in higher education, and connects with communities via global screenings, public television, and streaming platforms.

The Clowder Group is a social enterprise changing the world through film. We create media focused on building awareness and community impact at a grassroots level.
